

March 20, 2020

Dear Parents/Guardians,

I pray that all of you and your families are safe and healthy.

If someone had told me at the beginning of the New Year that we would be teaching and learning virtually for the start of the fourth quarter because of a global virus threat, I would not have believed them; however, here we are. Luckily, we are better prepared to teach virtually than most. We already have the platform, Canvas, to conduct our classes online. We will change from meeting in the physical class to the virtual class and we will be adding Zoom video communication for live classroom interaction.

Next week, March 23-27, 2020, is our rescheduled Spring Break. Teachers will not assign any work, tests, or quizzes during this week and nothing will be due the first day back from Spring Break (March 30). An update with more information for the week of March 30 will be sent sometime next week.

This is a global crisis which has changed the way we are thinking and interacting, and we must be patient and understanding as this is all new to everyone.

“In this time of uncertainty and anxiety, let us pray for one another and help each other. We ask the Lord to keep everyone healthy and safe.”

Yours in Catholic Education,

Richard P. Jean
